

Cristine Crooks

Cristine Crooks lives in Juneau, Alaska and as a retired teacher and administrator is now able to devote herself to art. She served as the first Executive Director of the Alaska Arts Education Consortium, working to help teachers bring more arts to their classrooms and schools throughout Alaska. For over 20 years she has been painting outdoors with fellow artists and continues to take classes in many art forms, especially enjoying three dimensional constructions.